MONTREAL MAYOR DENIS CODERRE SPEAKING AT THE 2015 EDITION OF "A CONCERT FOR SYRIA"

“The consequences of the displacements of this population warrant everyone's attention. This is one of the world's most important humanitarian issues, which is why we are responding by welcoming those who will choose to start a new life in Montréal.

I would like to acknowledge the efforts of Le centre culturel syrien, which plays such an important social and community role in Montréal, and wish the organizers of this event continued success.”

WHY

Since the beginning of the conflict more than 5 years ago, the number of lives uprooted or negatively affected has reached alarming proportions. According to the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), there are reportedly 8.7 million internally displaced people in Syria. In addition, 4.8 million Syrians have fled their country. These numbers demonstrate that almost half of the Syrian population (23 million) is in urgent need of humanitarian aid.

HOW

Originally established as a cultural and social club in 1976, Le centre culturel syrien was re-organized in 2015 to help alleviate the suffering of those exposed to the consequences of the brutal conflict in Syria. Through its 2015 edition of “A Concert for Syria,” performed by the I Medici di McGill Orchestra in Montreal's Notre-Dame Basilica, Le centre culturel syrien was able to raise $80,000. Proceeds from the event were donated to Oxfam-Québec and Development and Peace, established organizations that are providing humanitarian aid, including clean water, food, and clothing, to those in need in Syria. For its 2018 edition, Le centre culturel syrien, in collaboration with the I Medici di McGill Orchestra, aims to once again raise funds for internally displaced Syrians as well as for Syrian refugees living in Montréal. The proceeds will be donated to the following organizations:

- McGill University's scholarship fund for Syrian refugees in Montréal
- The Jesuit Refugee Service (JRS Canada)
- Le centre culturel syrien

ONLINE PORTAL FOR SYRIAN CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS

This centralized online platform will allow generous donors to support a significant number of approved charities working in several Syrian cities. The needs envisaged are numerous: orphanages, women victims of violence, visual and hearing impairment, mental health and various medical needs. This will be a highly effective and transparent portal for charitable projects.

MOMENT OF HOPE: IMMERSIVE BENEFIT NIGHT

The Syrian Cultural Center is in discussion with Cirque Éloize to offer you a unique, mysterious and artistic benefit evening celebrating Syrian culture and the art of the circus. A memorable evening not to be missed!

In 2018, we plan to continue our successful partnership with McGill University. The Scholarship Fund for Syrian Students that we have helped establish totals more than $60,000. We hope to grow this fund to offer a number scholarships and workshops, and to support research projects related to Syrian refugees.
